

Only two South Carolina Section members have ever been awarded Honorary Membership in AWWA. Dixie Fanning of Charleston became the third! Honorary Member is an award by the national AWWA and is recognition for her many years of service to the SC section as well as to the national membership. Dixie recently retired from Charleston Water (CPW Charleston) but served as AWWA National Vice President for two terms. She was Assistant Secretary/Treasurer of the SC and GA combined sections and was instrumental in the smooth transition in South Carolina to our state's section status. She acted as editor of the newsletter and Conference Coordinator of the first South Carolina Environmental Conference (SCEC). Dixie is a Fuller Award and Wiedeman Award recipient. She is shown here receiving her award in San Antonio from Katie McCain, past President of AWWA.
